Property Details

The Subject Property comprises the freehold interest in a three-storey (plus lower ground floor), mid-terraced building arranged as seven ground floor retail units, with a small element of hybrid office space, and seven self-contained two-bedroomed maisonettes located to the upper floors. The building appears to have been constructed circa mid-to-late 1950s.

The Property also includes an extensive secure gated yard, with ample on-site parking together with a block of six garages.

The main walls of the subject property are of cavity brickwork construction beneath a pitched and tile covered roof, with a section of flat roof to the rear (used as access for the flats), covered in a bituminous substance. There were limited views of the roofs owing to the height and configuration of the building.

Floors throughout the building are of a mixture of solid/suspended concrete and suspended timber construction.

Natural lighting and ventilation is provided by an aluminium framed plate glass shop frontages with double glazed uPVC framed windows to the rear and with single glazed metal framed windows to the upper parts.

Internally, the property is in moderate order throughout. Externally, items of disrepair were noted; however these defects are consistent for a property of this age and type and should prove capable of remedy by routine maintenance.

The Property occupies a broadly level and regular shaped parcel of land that extends to approximately 0.2947 acres, and the Property has an approximate built/plot site density ratio of 57%.

Location Report

The Subject Property is located in a secondary trading location along Edgware Road, close to its junction with Holmstall Avenue, within Colindale (London Borough of Brent).

The parade comprises mainly local retail covenants at ground floor level with upper parts largely in residential use. National multiples can be found further north along Burnt Oak Broadway.

Colindale is a typically densely populated outer North-West London district, situated approximately eight miles north-west of Central London, which benefits from reasonable demand from both the rental and vacant possession sectors.

Away from the retailing pitch, Colindale represents a “medium value” greater London residential suburb, comprising properties of varying eras, many of which have been the subject of flat conversion schemes.

Burnt Oak (Northern Line) London Underground Station is situated north of the subject, offering a frequent commuter service into Central London. Numerous bus routes serve the surrounding area.

Tenant Commentary

The Property is currently producing as per the tables below, commercial rental income of £110,100 per annum, and £100,800 per annum of residential rental income, thus £210,900 p.a. in all.

The five commercial tenants are individually weaker, local covenants, at an early stage of trading, although bank statements held on file evidence that all stated rents have been received in the last six months.

The residential tenants have been at the Property for five years or more.

Demand is generally believed to be good for commercial lettings locally, and strong for residential lettings.

A third office suite at shop no. 8 is currently vacant and available to let. This is the only vacant unit at the Property.

Valuation Commentary

A valuation of the property was carried out by Kirkby Diamond LLP on 14 September 2022, a copy of which can be seen in the supporting documents. The valuation concludes the following:

- the Subject Property is suitable security for the proposed lending
- the lettings provide a diverse income stream
- the parade enjoys low vacancy rates
- all flats are in good condition and well equipped
- the Property has off-road parking, and also includes a block of 6 garages
- the local retail leasing sector is slowly recovering after subdued activity during the pandemic
- demand from private investors, family trusts and high net worth individuals is reflected in an appropriate marketing period to achieve the stated value of 5-7 months
- the value of the residential elements with vacant possession would be underpinned by the potential to dispose of as separate 125-year long-leasehold interests.

Business Plan During Loan Term

The Borrower bought the Property in 2019, and it will be held as a long-term investment.

Since acquiring the Property, the Borrower has spent c£45k sub-dividing the former car dealership into four separate retail units, and converting part to office accommodation, in order to maximise rents.

The active Property and tenant management at the Subject Property is all undertaken by the Sponsor himself.

Exit Strategy

We will most likely be refinanced by a lender that also has appetite for providing development finance.

In December 2021, planning was achieved for the conversion of the upper parts to nine self contained flats. The client will wait to implement this, due to the current rising build costs, before either implementing the planning himself, or alternatively selling the Property with the benefit of the planning permission in place (under reference 20/3303).

Another alternative will be to refinance this loan like-for-like.

| The Borrower is not able to successfully execute their business plan.                                                                                                                         | The Borrower has numerous potential exit routes available, and will pursue the most financially viable at the appropriate time on or before maturity.                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | Medium     |
| The Borrower stops making monthly interest payments to Lenders due to loss of lease income and or tenants whose leases had ended, had exercised a lease break or have gone into receivership. | The tenants have demonstrated a good payment track record to date, over varying lengths of occupation. In the event of voids, local lettings demand is strong in the residential sector, and 'recovering' in the retail sector. Further comfort may be found in our holding of a 3-month Interest Reserve.                                                | Medium     |
| The Borrower is unable to repay the loan principal at the end of the loan term because they have not been able to sell or re-finance the property.                                            | As above the Borrower has more than one viable exit route, and as a further alternative, and on the proviso that the Borrower performs as expected, we may wish to offer a second loan as maturity approaches.                                                                                                                                                                 | Medium     |
| The Property falls in value due to either macroeconomic or property specific reasons                                                                                                          | Whilst there are no obvious local concerns specific to this Property, the recent raising of interest rates by the Bank of England in response to rising inflation is likely to suppress property values. With further measures possible to curb the fall of the pound, there is potential for severe fluctuations in both short-term market activity and values. | High       |
